The Bead Society of Greater New York is a non-profit organization of people who love beads and beaded objects. We are professionals and amateurs who work with glass beads, precious and semi-precious gemstones, polymer clay, fibers, metals, plastics, wire, found objects and a variety of other materials. Our work spans the spectrum from weaving to wire work, seed beads to making our own beads, modern to tribal and ethnic styled beaded jewelry along with a unique variety of incredibly creative objet d'art.

Our purpose is to enlighten the public about the historical and cultural influence and importance of beads. To this end, we offer lectures, conduct workshops and demonstrate techniques for working with beads.

We offer:

- Workshops with World Renowned and Local Bead Artists
- Monthly Meetings and Guest Lecturers
- Special Events and Field Trips
- Discounts on Workshops and at Local Bead Shops
- BSGNY E-mail Updates & Announcements
- Bead Library and Discounted Bead Books

Meetings are usually held on the last Wednesday of the month* (unless otherwise indicated on monthly notices) at:

The Fashion Institute of Technology, 27th Street & 8th Avenue, Building A, 8th Floor Faculty Lounge, NYC

Doors open at 6:00pm; Program begins promptly at 6:30pm

* No meetings in July and August

For more detailed information, please see our website at www.nybead.org
